Hi Jeff,

I found these economy binding posts on MPJA. You get an 8-pack (4 red and 4 black) for $1.95. They're certainly not as heavy duty as the ones from Powerwerx, but they accept banana plugs as well as terminals.

They also have these dual binding posts that accommodate the dual banana connectors and adapters for $1.95 each. The dual banana plugs can be fitted on the end of a cable, or you can get adapters that offer various types of standard connectors.

If you scroll down the dual binding post page, you'll see a parade of the various types of dual banana connectors and adaptors rolling by.

These are ideas for those that might be on a budget or want something that is intended for lighter duty than a 100 watt radio.
